

Believe In Tomorrow
Children's Foundation

Unsung Hero Award – 2006

Sean Sites, Home Depot

The recipient of the 2006 Believe In Tomorrow Unsung Hero Award is Sean Sites. Sean has been involved with Believe In Tomorrow National Children's Foundation since 1992, when he was introduced to Brian Morrison by a friend during the construction of Believe In Tomorrow's Children's House at Johns Hopkins. After touring the "shell" of the Children's House, Sean decided "it was one of the most worthwhile charities" he could support. Thus began his extraordinary commitment to the Children's Housing program. Sean has been involved in the construction or renovation of each of Believe In Tomorrow's five housing facilities and is responsible for creating the Annual Port To Fort Run/Walk. Sean's dedicated commitment to Believe In Tomorrow truly makes him a hero!

Construction on Believe In Tomorrow Houses

2006 Port to Fort